

Environmental Policy Statement

As a leading global manufacturer of instrumentation used in environmental applications, QED Environmental Systems Ltd. is committed to being environmentally responsible in our day-to-day business activities and operations, at our Coventry facility. We are committed to comply with, or exceed current relevant environmental legislation and approved codes of practice.

Guided by our policy, we recognise and will exercise our responsibilities to:

- Comply with legal & other requirements to which the business subscribes including taking specific guidance from the international standard ISO 14001,
- Commit to achieving measurable continuous improvement in regard to operational activity and environmental legislation,
- We will minimise the waste produced by our business operations and manage our resource efficiency, pollution prevention and recycling,
- Review and monitor our performance through the internal audit process,
- Provide the appropriate trained resources to raise awareness encourage participation and ensure that all staff are environmentally responsible,
- We will communicate this policy to all persons working on behalf of the organisation and external partners.

Dean Kavanagh

Managing Director

27 November 2018